

APA Style in Brief

Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association,
5th edition, 2001.

Call # BF 76.7 .P83 2001

(Reserve Desk: 3 copies & Reference Desk: 2 copies)

Harry A. Sprague Library

<http://library.montclair.edu>
Reference Desk: 973-655-4291

Book

Author's Last name, First initial. (Publication year). Title of Book. Publisher Location:
Publisher name.

[List all authors last name first, separated by commas, with an ampersand before the last author.
In an edited book, put the editors names in the author position, followed by (Ed.) or (Eds.).]

Example:

Mandler, G. (1997). Human nature explored. New York: Oxford University Press.

Work in an Anthology

Author's Last name, First initial. (Publication year). Title of Article or Chapter Cited. In Editor's First initial. Last name (Ed.), Title of Book (pp. xx-xx). Publisher Location: Publisher name.

Example:

House, D.V. & McDonald, M.J. (1998). Realist brains and virtual conversations. In W.E. Smythe, (Ed.), Toward a psychology of persons (pp.179-220). Mahwah, NJ: L. Erlbaum.

Scholarly Journal Article

Author's lastname, first initial. (Publication year). Title of the article. Name of Journal, volume(issue), pages cited xx-xx.

[Add issue# only if each issue is individually paginated.]

Example:

Vardi, L. (1996). Imagining the harvest in early modern Europe. The American Historical Review, 101(5), 1357-1397.

Periodical Article with Two or Three Authors

Author's lastname, first initial., & Author's lastname, first initial. (Publication year). Title of the article.
Name of Journal, volume(issue), pages cited xx-xx.

Example:

Vincenti, W., & Sielaff, M. (1997). Civil War Resources on the Internet: an Annotated Bibliography.
Reference Services Review, 25(1), 39-45.

Magazine or Newspaper Article

Author's Last name, First initial. (Publication year, month day). Title of article. Name of Magazine or Newspaper, volume, pages of article cited xx-xx.

Example:

Weyermann, D. (1998, April). And then there were none. Harper's Magazine, 296, 60-69.

[Note 1: If the periodical is published once every two weeks or more frequently, give the publication date as (year, month day); if it is published monthly or less frequently, give the month (or other designation)
and year]

[Note 2: If an article runs on successive pages from beginning to end, give the beginning and ending pages; if not, give the first page followed by a +.]

Periodical Article Online

Author's Last name, First initial. (Publication date). Title of article. Title of periodical, volume, xx-xx.
Retrieved date, from database name.

Example:

Hughes, C. & Cutting, A. (1999). Nature, nurture, and individual differences in early understanding of mind. Psychological Science, 10, 429-432. Retrieved January 18, 2000 from Infotrac database.

Encyclopedia or Dictionary Entry

Author's name Last name, First initial. (Publication year). Title of entry. In Ed. Editor's First initial Last name. Title of work (Vol. #, pp. xx-xx). Publisher Location: Publisher name.
[Skip editor if there is none.]

Example:

Hunker, H.L. (1997). Columbus, Christopher. In. The Encyclopedia Americana International Edition. (Vol.7, pp. 344-352). Danbury, CT: Grolier, Inc.
[If no author is given, use the title of the entry to begin the citation.]

ERIC Reports

Last name, First initial. (Publication date). Title of ERIC Report. Place of Publication: Publisher.
(ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED#####)

Example:

Dalrymple, N. (1979). Learning Together. Bloomington, IN: Indiana Resource Center for Autism, Indiana University. (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED363978)

World Wide Web

Author Last name, First initial. (Publication date). Title of Web Site. Retrieved date, from publishing organization's name Web Site: <http://insert.web.address.here>

Example:

Green, C.D. (1997). Classics in the History of Psychology. Retrieved January 8, 2002 from York University, Toronto, Canada. Web site: <http://psychclassics.yorku.ca>

Gale Criticism Collections (Short Story Criticism, CLC, TCLC, etc.)

Example:

Canty, D. (1996). McMillan arrives. In J. Hunter, D. Schmitt, T. White (Eds.), Contemporary Literary Criticism (pp. 236-7). Detroit, MI: Gale.
(Reprinted from English Journal, 83(4), 86-7)